

BEST CLEANING HACKS TO MAKE YOUR FLOORS

CREATE YOUR FOUNDATION

For any plan to work, and work well, it will have to be built upon a solid and sound foundation. In this case, the foundation is that of a floor cleaning routine. Set a schedule to vacuum and clean your floors one day a week.

DEALING WITH PET HAIR

It seems no matter how hard I tried, I never felt like I was winning the war when it came to my dog's hair. Then there was the problem of little dirty paw prints during those wetter days and months of the year.

MATS AT THE DOORS

Taking the time to place a good quality doormat at each entrance into your home will go a long, long way to helping trap any dirt, grimes, or germs before they can even begin to make their way into any part of your home.

TEA FOR TWO—AND FLOORS TOO

There is more to black tea than the apparent health benefits that the herb bestows. It is also useful in the maintenance of your floors—in not one but two ways. One to cover scratches on any type of wood and two, making your floors shine.

OLIVE OIL FOR RESTORATION

Throughout the life of your wood floors, they will begin to look dry, scratched, and well, let's face it, dingy. If you prefer a more natural and less harsh means, try olive oil. It can offer your hardwood floors a new and shiny finish that will make them look new again.

REMOVE THOSE SHOES

If you want to minimize the grunge and dirt that your floors accumulate, you might want to take on a "no-shoe" policy in your household. This policy is the perfect means to control, if not eliminate, the amount of dirt and grime that gets tracked into the home on a daily basis.

YOU WILL SOON HAVE FLOORS THAT ARE SPARKLE AND SHINE
LIKE WHEN THEY WERE BRAND NEW IN NO TIME AT ALL!
